Maison Hamilton

The history of my house dates back to the time of the De Blainville family, with Marie-Anne Thérèse (1735-1811) as the first owner. She was very meticulous in overseeing the development of the property and the garden.

Hamilton House was originally built around 1796. It unfortunately remains unoccupied and荒废 (neglected) for many years.

The property where you are now located dates back to 1811, when Richard Hamilton bought the land from the De Blainville family. He was a member of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a popular vacation spot at the time. The present-day Rosemère was built in 1888.

Richard Hamilton died in 1901. His wife, Emma Gifford, remained the owner of the estate. She continued to live in the house until her death in 1941.

Four years later, the premises were designed by architect Richard Ferguson. The house was transformed into a residence for the town of Rosemère.

Hamilton House is a fine example of traditional architecture, combining neoclassical and Regency styles. It also includes some traditional French elements, such as the stone chimney and stack.

The chimney openings and stack are typical of neoclassicism, while the curved eaves gallery is typical of Regency style and architecture in general.

MA RUE,
MES ARBRES' TD

OBJECTIFS DU PROJET

- 1 Valoriser davantage les matières liées aux arbres et leur pratique par des personnes compétentes et passionnées.
- 2 Miser sur la diversification de la forêt urbaine, et faire face au fait de faire face aux changements climatiques et aux ravageurs exotiques envahissants, tout en aggrile du frêne.
- 3 Choisis de manière optimale les espèces d'arbres pour assurer une meilleure capacité de résister aux conditions de stress du milieu.

TD GREEN TREES

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROJECT

- 1 Promote the importance of tree-related trades and their practice by qualified and enthusiastic persons.
- 2 Focus on the diversification of the urban forest to better deal with climate change and invasive exotic pests such as the emerald ash borer.
- 3 Choose species in a manner that optimizes the ability to withstand environmental stresses.

This project involves the planting thirty or so trees by students of the Centre de formation horizontale de Laval (CFHL). This project will create a screen between the Hamilton House gardens and neighbouring residential buildings. This screen will make it possible to reduce noise from traffic and commercial activities as well as local automotive traffic and commercial activities. This initiative will also contribute to the training of up-and-coming workers in the field of arboriculture. Finally, these infrastructures will provide a host of social, environmental, economic and health benefits.

This urban planting project is made possible thanks to the financial support of TD and the Foundation TD Green Trees program and Tree Canada. These two organizations have made it their mission to focus on tree-centred environmental initiatives.

JARDIN
DES ENFANTS

CHILDREN'S GARDEN

The jardin des enfants, une prairie miniature qui danse au rythme du vent, ondoyant tel le mouvement des vagues. Ses sentiers étroits nous incitent à nous arrêter pour admirer, sentir et écouter la nature. Mouvant et lumineux, il nous replonge dans notre enfance avec ses rêves les plus inspirants.

Plantes hautes, même géantes, entremêlées de graminées souples et sauvages, le jardin des enfants suggère un autre monde où petits animaux, insectes, abeilles, papillons et oiseaux vivent en harmonie avec l'humain, suscitant sa curiosité.

CHILDREN'S GARDEN

The Children's Garden: it's a miniature prairie bobbing in the wind, swaying like the waves. Its narrow paths invite us to stop, marvel, smell the fragrances, and listen to the sounds of nature. Bright and ever changing, it takes us back to our childhood filled with the most inspiring dreams.

Tall, sometimes gigantic plants interspersed with wild and fluid grasses, the garden conjures up another world where small animals, insects, bees, butterflies and birds live in harmony with humans, eliciting our curiosity.
